Pain Medicine

All patients undergoing surgical procedures will receive preoperative pain medicine and will be sent home with pain medicine for 5-7 days.

Laboratory Tests

All surgical patients receive a physical exam. However, the most thorough way to assess anesthetic risk is to perform preoperative tests. We require preoperative testing on all patients older than five years and highly recommend it for all others. If you desire your pet to be tested please choose among the following:

CBC/Chemistry: Highly recommended for patients older than ten years. Measures electrolytes, protein, glucose, platelet and cholesterol levels; tests for infection, anemia, liver and kidney disease. Our most comprehensive blood test.
Yes___ No___ ($ _____)

Preoperative Blood: Our basic blood screening. Required on all patients older than five years. Measures protein levels, tests for anemia and kidney disease. (Not necessary if you chose the CBC/Chemistry).
Yes___ No___ ($ _____)

Electrocardiogram (ECG): This test evaluates the electrical function of the heart. An ECG is highly recommended for dog breeds predisposed to heart problems such as Dobermans and Boxers.
Yes___ No___ ($ _____)

Dentistry:

In order to make the most informed decisions regarding your pet's dental health, each dental patient will receive a thorough oral exam and a full-mouth series of X-rays.

If it is determined that your pet requires a tooth or teeth to be extracted, how would you like this to be handled?

Perform the extraction(s) _____

*Please call me * _____ I can be reached at the following number: _____*

Please note: If you request to be called and you cannot be reached the extractions will not be performed.

Would you like your pet to receive a Home Again microchip?

The number 1 cause of pet death is getting lost. The Home Again microchip is your pet's best chance of being returned to you should he/she get lost or stolen. ($50 for microchip plus $15 registration fee) _____
